HALCYON

A YEAR THE REVERSE OF ITSELF. TRITE OBSERVATION, NO DOUBT. BUT IN A YEAR WHEN WE WERE TURNED COMPLETELY AROUND, ONLY TO FIND OUR OLD SELVES AGAIN, IT SEEMS PERHAPS MORE APT THAN CLICHE. THE METAPHOR EXTENDS -- TO A COLLEGE SWOLLEN WITH ITS OWN DICHOTOMIES, IMPROVED BY THEM INsofar AS THEY ARE A MEANS, DAMAGED BY THEM INsofar AS THEY BECOME A TOO-EASY END. IT EXTENDS FURTHER OUT -- TO A NATION'S PROPHECIES OF FUNDAMENTALISM, THE FINAL SOLUTION FOR A DECADE CONSCIOUSLY UN-FUNDAMENTAL. A REGRESSION? PERHAPS BUT ONLY FUTURE TIME WILL TELL.

HE WAS THE FIRST PROFESSOR AT SWARTHMORE I TALKED TO. HE HAS TAKEN MY SUCCESSES AND REVERIES PERSONALLY. MY LAST SWARTHMORE SEMINAR IS HIS LAST SWARTHMORE SEMINAR. Friendship

Even dorks have friends, only they're dorks, too. People have fun here, despite what you hear. Look at these beautiful smiling faces! Friendships tend to be tighter when you see the same people every day for four years. In the end, it's all good, because Swatties are cool in their own way. Even if you are not, your friends will still love you.

*Swat life may last several years,
but friends are forever.*
Sharing a meal, hugging, sitting outside of Parrish Hall, chatting, or primping up-friends always find ways to have fun and enjoy each other's company.

Dating at Swat

Although dating is not very popular on Swarthmore's campus, the relationships that do form become an important part of students' lives. Couples are often found walking, dining, studying, partying, and sleeping together. Even one of the first statements made during orientation concerns the strong possibility of meeting your lifelong partner at Swarthmore. So, why not participate in the "Quaker matchbox"? The following are couples who invited us to take a closer look at their love.

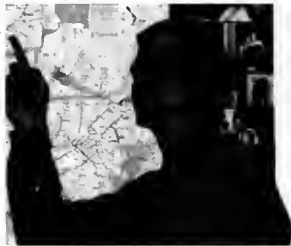

How sweet they are! Joseph Dickerson '04 shares a sweet kiss with his girlfriend, Audrey Decker '04, while Josh Loeffler '03 wraps his arm around Helen Leitner '04 . . .

Aww, how cute!
Christina Hinton'04 and Edward Albers'03, Sonal Bhatia'02 and Chirag Chotalia'04, Leaya Lee'02 and Chris Milla'03, Blake Atkins'02 and Samantha Bartner'04, Matthew Rubin'04 and Elena Kufari'05, Esther Zeledon'04 and Ricardo Ocampo'05, Liz Brainard'03 and Elizabeth Lindsey'02.

*What's your favorite
pick-up line?*

"Do you like raisins,
how about a date?"

William Farrell '05

"I don't use any."

Sonie Kamata '05

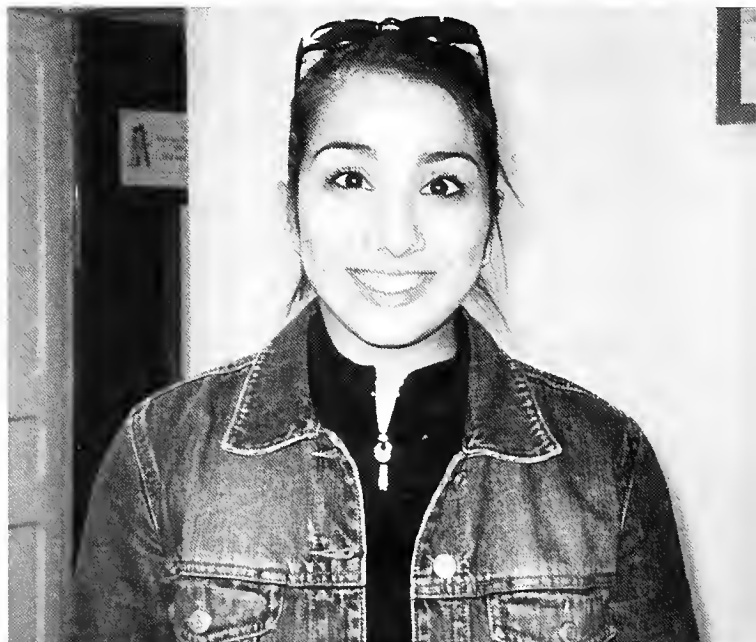

"I'm too smooth
for pick up lines."

Adil Nure '05

Loungin'

Relaxed is a word seldom used by Swarthmore students when describing their state. They are often lethargic, stressed, tense, and our favorite word, busy. It is expected that after a long day's work, Swarthmore students enjoy the luxury of kicking back, even for five minutes. We followed students around campus and caught them during their down time.

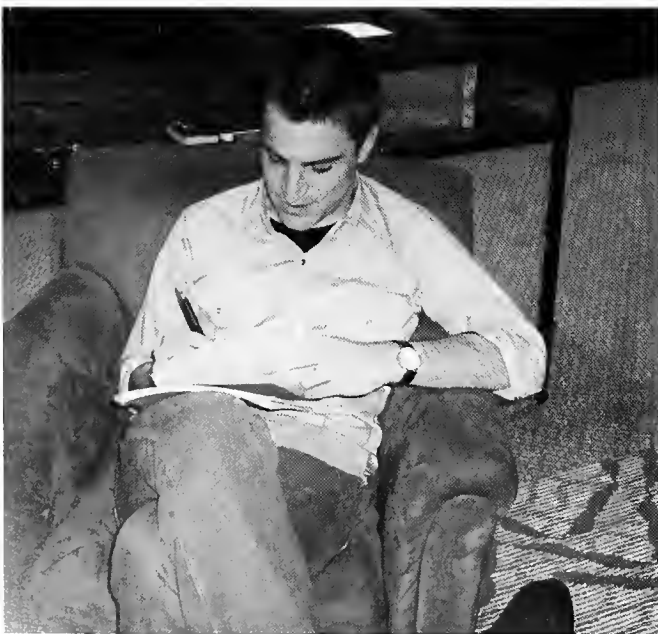

Opposite page:
Nick Borunda'04, Anteneh Tesfaye'03,
Nicholas Martin'04, Alexandra Sastre'05,
Kamille Hutchinson'05, and Pari
Desphande'04 all caught lounging about.

This page:
Students are often seen hanging out in the hallway or spending private time. Some like to perform for friends, others are extremely excited about having time off.

Studying

Ah. Studying. You're always doing it, but it is never quite done. It steals your sleep, ruins your relationships, messes up your complexion, and gives you that special hump in your back from hunching over the desk. Yeah, we all complain, but otherwise we wouldn't know how to form irritating rhetorical questions. What would we have to hold over our friends' heads if not how much harder we work than they do?

McCabin' It. Senior Daniel Koltonski knows what it is all about, a comfortable seat and a positive attitude. Semhar Mahmud '02 and Hanifa Abdul-Sabur '05 take a study break and look at pictures.

It's the real deal.
Swatties spend most of their days in the library. Let's not forget the lovely all-nighters either. Students will do whatever it takes to get the work done on time. If not, there is only one possibility, an extension.

Where do you like to study?

"In the hall outside of my room."

Nicola Wells '05

"Mephistos."

Brandon Carver '04

"In my room, sometimes McCabe."

Piper Hy '05

Dressing Up

The excuse to dress up is not taken lightly at Swarthmore. Some go out looking glamorous, while others demonstrate their eccentric styles. Dressing up is fun, exciting, and most of all, communal. From cats to angels, from superheroes to celebrities, Swatties never miss an opportunity to show what they've got.

Hmm, what to wear....

This year's popular events were Orientation Week's 80's party, Halloween in ML (of course), Phi Psi's 70's Party, and the Fall Formal. Let's not forget the day the soccer girls dressed up in their tackiest gear. Who said Swarthmore can't be fun?

Weekends

For some, it's time to sleep. For others, it's time to catch up on the nagging paper that was due two weeks ago. For most, it's time to breathe air untouched by the smell of used book pages and the rubber burning off a number two pencil. Forget classes, assignments, professors, and let it all hang out. Here are pictures of students relaxing, partying, and resting.

Yes, the weekends are every Swattie's salvation.

Party on tonight. Sherandoa Benitez'04 and his buddy Joseph Desimone'04 kick it at the SASS while Derrick Wansom'05 scratches in the background.

It's my party...
Josh Farber'02, Jon Bartner'02 and Lucy Lang'03 at DU. If only these three lovely ladies actually belonged to Robert Buechner. Anna Morgan'04, Michael Auerbach'05 and Jeff Donlea'05 are busy decorating the Christmas tree. Hangover anyone?

What do you like to do on the weekends?

"Go to the movies and hang out with my boyfriend."

Erica Siegel '05

"Party."

Kenny Clark '03

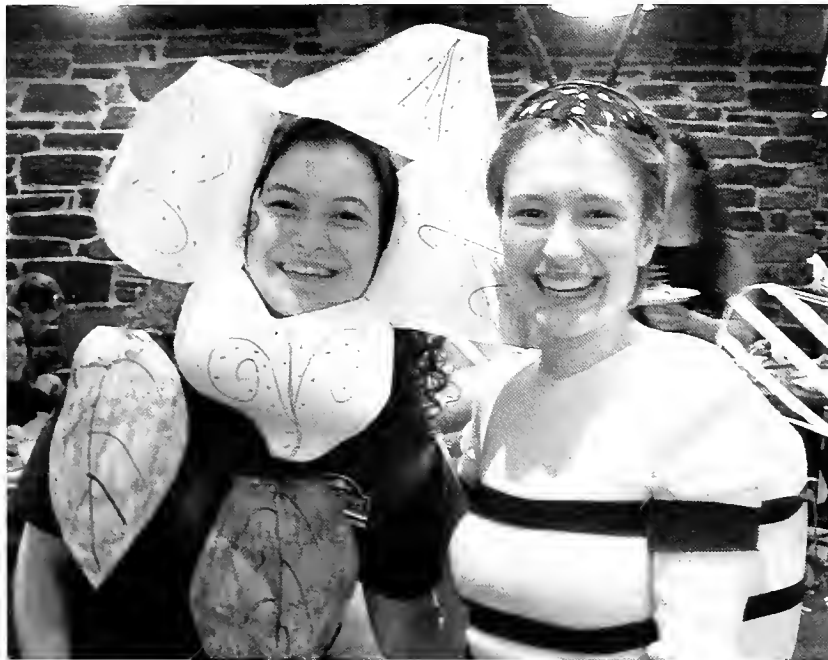

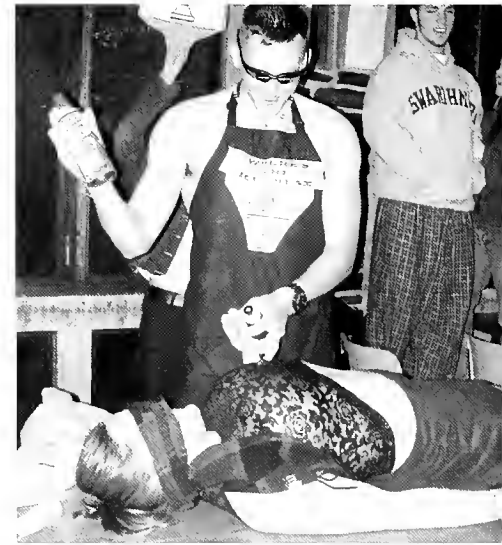

"Relax and chill with friends."

Cynthia Lee '02

Screw Your Roommate

“No, Mom, that’s not what it’s supposed to mean. Really, I swear.” If she only knew. Match-ups range from food wrestling, cross-dressing, and giant diapers to [mostly] harmless human pinatas and not so harmless streaking. “Screw” is the time of the year when Swatties get down with their bad selves and release some of the tension that accumulates around midterms.

"I have never seen him out!" is one of the most popular phrases during Screw. It is a priority for most Swatties to go out on that night since the possibility of finding "that special someone" increases. It is always a pleasure to see Swarthmore students getting rid of their inhibitions and enjoying themselves.

Out of the Classroom

"AT SWARTHMORE, BEING ACTIVE IN A CLUB OR ORGANIZATION

IS THE ONLY LEGITIMATE EXCUSE FOR NOT DOING SCHOOL WORK."

Jason,

The journey of life is made up of many small roads, some smooth, some bumpy. Each one serves to mold the traveler along the way. The road just traveled has taken you from the shelter of home and family to learning to live on your own and learning to deal with life's adversities with strength of character and courage. As we've watched your journey, we can't help but be so proud of the person you have become. Our wish is that as you travel the road ahead, "...may the road rise to meet you, may the wind be always at your back, may the sun shine warm upon your face..."

Mom and Dad

Tiny:

I'm glad we're friends, and I look forward to the day
we will both be in early retirement (the hectic life of two young millionaires having taken its toll), chilling in Australia and preparing to take over the world. Until then, LET'S DO IT!!!!!!-

Dear Kim,

*You lit your candle eliminating darkness and dismay.
Your flame grew stronger in knowledge, service, heart and achievement with each new horizon. As you continue to aim for new goals from this, your moment, your collection, let your light continue to shine for all to see.*

Congratulations Kim! We're honored and proud of you for all you've come to be.

*Much love,

Follow your own path
And don't worry about the darkness
For that is when stars shine brightest

*Congratulations, Jae Won!
Starting from a cute smart little baby,
you have always given us dream, happiness and lots of smile.

Andrea M. Wong

You have amazed us with your many accomplishments since you were just a little girl, showing unlimited intellectual and artistic abilities, and have continued to do so by seeking challenges in every aspect of life. Through all these experiences, you have shown strength of character, resilience and determination. We're confident that these achievements, along with your kind heart and keen self-awareness will get you wherever you want to go in life.

Love, Dad, Mom, Augie, Rebeka & Emma

Amy E. Marinello

When we put you on the bus for your first day of kindergarten, we couldn't have imagined all your achievements- at Leicester, Worcester Academy and Swarthmore.

We are so proud of how you have grown and the young woman you are today.

We'll always be behind you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Ariel A. Kobylak

*Continued thanks for just being yourself.
As always and for ever,
you are my pepper.
Great love, Dad.*

*PS. At any other school...
you would have had a great time!*

Jason J. Choi

Jason, here you are as an infant and here you are as a full-grown man on the lacrosse field. Now you're about to step into the real world where the players are bigger, stronger, and faster. But carry with you that same tenacious attitude and you'll do fine. You're ready after four years at Swarthmore to face all your opponents and the whole world in one sitting. Don't take too big of a bite. Just remember that we are always with you. We've always loved you and always will. We've realized through the years that in your quiet solitude and calm resilience you're a beautiful person. Son, brother, friend, we count you as one of our many blessings. Don't forget who you are and where you came from. Always know that God is with you and continue to grow as a Christian and a person.

Love always,
Mom, Dad, and Abe

Karen Lange

Love you babe, Mom

Congratulations! Suma Balu
We are proud of your achievements.
As you embark on your life's journey, beyond College, here are some phrases from our Hindu scriptures, the Bhagavad-Gita. Being eminent with virtues is a God-given gift which will make a person a model to society. Self-dedication is the highest law of life. It is the act of offering the best and most useful to others, imparting one's learning to others, sharing one's knowledge and wisdom with others, sharing one's wealth with others. The above are considered meritorious acts, Untainted by selfishness, for, Work performed for general welfare Is adoration to the Almighty.

What you see above is not random dots! It is a digital representation of the voices of 13 seniors, speaking into a microphone. They recorded their voices on a computer and turned the resulting binary code into a long sequence of shapes. Years hence, someone can scan the shapes back into a computer and hear their voices. For now, we can only guess what their message is.
